Tiana Sanchez is a #1 bestselling author, leadership coach, and thought leader whose work empowers women and organizations to thrive through change, civility, and resilience.

With over two decades of experience, she's built a reputation for delivering high-energy, transformational keynotes and training—whether speaking at women's leadership conferences, corporate events, or higher-education gatherings.

Specializing in women's leadership, navigating change, cultivating civil leadership, and building resiliency, Tiana brings fresh insights, real-world tools, and a passion for helping people lead with dignity, purpose, and impact. Her frameworks inspire leaders to embrace failure as fuel, communicate with compassion, and foster environments where everyone feels valued and ready to grow.
